

Professor Dr. Franz Waldenberger

Director
German Institute for Japanese Studies

waldenberger@dijtokyo.org

| | |
|-------------------------|---|
| Academic education | Study of economics in Heidelberg, Tokyo (Sophia University) and Cologne. 1986 diploma in economics, Cologne University, with a thesis in econometrics, 1990 PhD in economics, Cologne University, with a thesis in industrial organization, 1996 Habilitation in economics, Cologne University, with a thesis on Japanese post war economic development. |
| Professional Experience | 12/1986 to 11/1989 research assistant, Cologne University. 12/1989 to 10/1992 research associate, German Monopolies Commission, Cologne. 11/1992 to 10/1997 senior research fellow, German Institute for Japanese Studies, Tokyo. Since 11/1997 Professor for Japanese Economy at Japan Centre and Munich School of Management, Ludwig-Maximilians-University (LMU) Munich. 10/2010 to 03/2012 leave from LMU to teach and conduct research at Tsukuba University, Tokyo Campus Since 10/2014 leave from LMU to act as Director of the German Institute for Japanese Studies (DIJ), Tokyo |
| Research priorities | Japanese economy, Japan's fiscal and monetary policy, corporate governance, international human resource management, start-up ecosystems |