

Deutsches Institut für Japanstudien
German Institute for Japanese Studies Tokyo (DIJ)
ドイツ日本研究所

GERMAN INSTITUTE FOR JAPANESE STUDIES (DIJ)
THE GERMAN CENTER FOR RESEARCH AND INNOVATION (DWIH)

TENTATIVE PROGRAM

for the Workshop

"Building a Sustainable Future: Integrating Consumption, Finance, and Education"

Monday, June 10, 2024

at DIJ, Jochi Kioizaka Bldg. 2F
7-1 Kioicho, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo 102-0094

Language: English

This workshop delves into the interconnected issues of sustainability, sustainable consumption, sustainable finance and education which collectively form a holistic approach to creating a more balanced and resilient world. Sustainable consumption encourages mindful choices to minimize waste and environmental impact, while sustainable finance directs capital toward environmentally friendly and socially responsible investments. Together, they create a powerful framework that fosters innovation, promotes responsible resource management, and drives positive social and environmental outcomes, paving the way for a sustainable and prosperous future.

14:00

Welcome Remarks

Markus HECKEL (German Institute for Japanese Studies, DIJ)

Laura BLECKEN (The German Centre for Research and Innovation Tokyo, DWIH)

14:15

Sustainable Consumption

Chair: Shinji HASEGAWA (Waseda University)

Sustainable Consumption of Young People in Japan and Germany: Behaviour and Influencing Factors

Carsten HERBES (University Nuertingen-Geislingen)

The Use of Carbon Footprints toward Collaborative Visioning of Sustainable Lifestyles and Resilient Livelihoods in Japan

Atsushi WATABE (Institute for Global Environmental Strategies, IGES)

Sustainable Consumption and Investment in National Accounting

Rintaro YAMAGUCHI (National Institute for Environmental Studies, NIES)

15:45	Education, Corporate Sustainability, and Sustainable Finance Chair: Carsten HERBES (University Nuertingen-Geislingen) Connecting Corporate Sustainability and Sustainable Finance Emi ONOZUKA (Director of Future Design Initiative by Science and Finance, FDSF) Education for Sustainable Finance: Policy Implications from Japanese Practices Jutaro KANEKO (Hakuoh University)
16:45	Coffee Break
17:00	Climate Bonds and Sustainable Finance Chair: Markus HECKEL The Climate Bonds Initiative: Theory of Change and Approach Maiko MORISHITA (Institute for Global Environmental Strategies, IGES and Climate Bonds Initiative) Sustainable Finance: Initiatives Taken by the Tokyo Metropolitan Government Hiromi YAMAOKA (Chief Adviser for International Finance, Tokyo Metropolitan Government) The Global Climate Change Problem and the Role of Sustainable Finance Nobuyuki KINOSHITA (Advisor, Keiaistar Real Estate)
18:30	Closing Remarks Markus HECKEL (German Institute for Japanese Studies)
18:35	Buffet Reception
20:00	End

Participation is free, but space is limited. Please register with heckel@dijitokyo.org.